Sense of God's call	My sense of God's call has always involved reforming/rethinking the ways we teach, learn and serve. One of my personal passions is creating congregational awareness of larger church teachings and relationships. In the past few years, I've witnessed members in my congregation grow because they have utilized synod and churchwide resources (ex/social statements, Why Church materials) as well as stepped out of their comfort zones and visited ELCA ministries at the border. Congregation members, who have attended Churchwide Assemblies in the past, have urged me to consider attending both to represent and to grow.
